BECK'S & BREMEN

Founded in 1873 as a Kaiser Brewery in Bremen, the green long-neck bottle set the beer apart from others early on. The name quickly spread all over the world and Bremen became known as a brewery location. Despite being sold globally, it was not until 1949 that Beck's was first sold in Germany. With its red label that holds the name of the Hanseatic city, Beck's has become an integral part of today's beer culture with the modified symbolic key of Bremen adorning every single bottle - albeit mirrored.
